

REPORT "BALTIMORE PEACE PLAN" ACCEPTED

REPORTED THAT 15 PER CENT OF STRIKERS MAY RETURN TO WORK SOON

Policy Committee of the Striking Shopcrafts in Session at Chicago Voted in Favor of the Proposed Partial Settlement of Strike

About 35 Railroads are Included in the Settlement, Being the Milwaukee, Northwestern, B. & O., Etc.; No Mention Made of Northern Pacific

By United Press

Chicago, Sept. 13.—The policy committee of the shopmen's union has accepted the "Baltimore peace plan" by which about 15 per cent of the 400,000 men who struck on July 1 will return to work on certain roads, the United Press was reliably informed today.

Announcement of the action taken by the policy committee will be made at union headquarters here at 6 p. m.

The vote on the proposals, according to information given by one of the 90 members of the committee who attended the meeting was 45 to 35 in favor of acceptance of the plan to make individual settlements with the various roads.

Another committee member, Secretary Butler, of the local Gary shopcrafts union, stated the vote was 46 to 34 in favor of acceptance.

Bert M. Jewell, president of the union, has stated that if the plan was accepted the men would be back to work within five days.

About 35 roads are included in the settlement. Among the lines mentioned are the Milwaukee, Northwestern, Baltimore & Ohio, Southern, Seaboard and many minor roads.

The roads included in the settlement constitute about 15 per cent of the total mileage affected by the strike.

With this nucleus on which to work, the shopmen's organization is expected to proceed with negotiations with other railroads in an effort to bring about a nation-wide settlement such as the result in the coal strike after the first separate agreement was reached.

Jewell strongly recommended adoption of his plans for separate peace, and the vote was taken only after three long days of argument.

The majority of the peace orators in the policy committee were reported to have been obstinately opposed to the settlement. They represented workers on roads such as the Pacific and Illinois Central which are not included in the separate peace agreement at this time.

However, the weight of the arguments of Jewell and other leaders was reported to have swung sufficient votes in favor of the settlement.

Jewell was plainly well pleased with the progress of the sessions when the committee went into conference at 2:30 p. m. for the final meeting.

It was understood that this meeting would be a mere formality to ratify the action taken in the morning meeting, and approve the statement which will be issued to the public on the action of the committee at 6 p. m.

Charge Shopmen Sanctioned Violence

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Officials of the railroad shopmen's unions sanctioned and encouraged violence by striking members, federal attorneys charged today in United States district court here.

A. W. McLaughlin, assistant to Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, in arguing before Judge James H. Wilkerson, on making the government injunction to break the strike permanent, declared:

"We intend to show that the union officials were not acting in good faith when they claimed they did not approve of violence. The evidence will disclose that they actually urged their men to do everything possible to hinder traffic."

When Donald Richberg, attorney for the unions, attempted to demand a classification of the evidence which the government is presenting, in order to speed up proceedings, federal counsel said they expected to complete their arguments by Saturday noon.

Judge Wilkerson said the hearing would have to be completed within the ten day period over which the temporary injunction was extended as the writ could not be continued in force another period.

Richberg said refusal of the government attorney to classify their affidavits, would force him to make a separate argument on each piece of evidence presented which would result in continuing the arguments several weeks.

Attempt to Dynamite Bridge

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 13.—Two men were in custody today and two more were sought following an attempt last night to dynamite the Mill Creek trestle of the Atlantic Coast line railroad north of here.

Deputy sheriffs surprised the alleged dynamiters. Identity of the two who escaped is said to be known.

Four sticks of dynamite with fuses attached were found at the end of the trestle. One fuse was burning. A deputy extinguished the fuse just in time to prevent an explosion.

ALLIES PLAN COMPROMISE SETTLEMENT WITH THE TURKS TO AVERT A WAR

London, Sept. 13.—A compromise settlement with the Turks will be attempted by the allies to avert war over the possession of Constantinople, according to views in diplomatic quarters today.

The following terms of settlement are being considered by the allies, it is believed:

1. Restoration of Adrianople and the largest portion of Thrace.
2. Internationalization of Constantinople and the Dardanelles.

American Destroyer With Relief
Constantinople, Sept. 13.—The American destroyer Edsall has started for Smyrna with relief supplies for the 700,000 refugees who flocked there before the Turks seized the city from the Greek army.

Many children have died of starvation since the Turks took the city, and hundreds of other deaths are imminent unless relief is hurried at once, according to officials of the Near East relief.

Mustapha Kemal, leader of the Turkish army has evidently been able to hold his troops in check, making them refrain from attacking the Christians. Allied representatives are prepared to recommend drastic action to their governments in case disturbances break out.

INDREHUS OPENS DRIVE; ATTACKS RECORD OF PREUS

IN FRONT PORCH ADDRESS DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE CHARGES EXTRAVAGANCE

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA IS ASSAILED BY THE SPEAKER

Foley, Sept. 13.—Edward Indrehus democratic candidate for governor, opened his campaign late yesterday with a "front porch" address from a platform near his farm home eight miles southeast of this city, before an audience gathered by automobile from the twin cities, Duluth, St. Cloud and other points, including many Benton and Mille Lacs county neighbors of the candidate.

Mr. Indrehus launched an attack on the administration of Governor J. A. O. Preus and scored the republican "machine," as he termed it, charging extravagance and subservience to "vested interests." He advocated a system of "state marketing agencies" for large centers, to cut down the spread between the farm and the consumer.

The candidate also criticized the University of Minnesota, promising to reorganize the board of regents if elected, declaring for "academic freedom" and for a fixed income instead of biennial appropriations for the institution.

Governor Preus was held to be "in blind sympathy with capital" because he put state troops in South St. Paul to preserve order in the peaking house strike.

Silas W. Bryan, democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, spoke at the meeting. Mrs. Anna D. Oleson nominee for United States senator, who opened her own campaign Saturday night, also appeared on the Indrehus "front porch." A delegation from Minneapolis and St. Paul made the trip by automobile after parading downtown streets with a band, driving by way of Elk River and Princeton.

Opposes State Police
Mr. Indrehus outlined his own position in the campaign as standing for the following:

- Retrenchment in state expenses.
- Repeal of the street railway rate regulation law.
- Opposition to a state police.
- Reform of state university administration.
- Establishment of "state marketing agencies" for farmers' products.
- Vetoes by governor of bills passed in legislature through "log-rolling" methods.
- Establishment of co-operative banks.
- Lower tax rates on improvements and personal property.
- State owned cement plant.
- Tax on gasoline when it enters the state, and a lower minimum tax on autos.
- State income tax.
- Reasonable pay for school teachers and social studies in grade and high schools.

Enlargement of the state flour mill at Minneapolis.

Rural credit amendment.

Republican propaganda, Mr. Indrehus said, has broken down the old democratic structure to some extent, through appeals to democrats when "progressives" threatened to capture republican party organization. "But the disruption," he went on, "now has enabled the people to capture the democratic organization, and henceforth it will be used for the betterment of the social, political and economic condition of the people."

WEEKS CENSURES Kipling, YANKS AGAINST ARMISTICE

SECRETARY DECLARES PERSHING WANTED TO PUSH ATTACKS ON GERMANS

CLAIMS FURTHER THAT BRITISH AND FRENCH OVERRULED HIS OBJECTIONS

Washington, Sept. 13.—In a public statement, Secretary of War W. J. Weeks yesterday took exception to remarks attributed to Rudyard Kipling, which reflected on the part played by the United States in the World war.

After chiding Mr. Kipling for "publicly asserting as a fact something so conclusively refuted by matters of record," Secretary Weeks discussed specially the intimation that the United States has been responsible for the early ending of the war.

All evidence on this point, Mr. Weeks asserted, indicates that the British and French leaders were responsible for the armistice and it was negotiated over the protest of American representatives in Europe.

"All of the evidence on that subject indicates that the British and French leaders were responsible for the armistice and it was entered into over the protest of the responsible military and civilian American representatives in France," Mr. Weeks said. "The United States did not, nor did it have any desire to profit as a result of the war. It expended nearly $20,000,000,000 in addition to the loans made foreign countries and it did not ask for or receive reparations of any kind. Its motives were of the highest order. The history of America's participation in the war was honorable in every respect—that cannot be denied."

In commenting upon the reported interview with Mr. Kipling, Secretary Weeks said that General J. J. Pershing and General T. H. Bliss had both advised against an armistice.

SEPTEMBER AND OCTOBER, GLORIOUS MONTHS OF YEAR

HUNTING AND FISHING REIGN SUPREME IN BRAINERD LAKE REGION

LAKE RESORTS AND COTTAGES EXTEND A GLAD WELCOME TO SPORTSMEN

September and October, two of the most glorious months of the year, beckon the hunter and fisherman and tourist to the Brainerd Lake Region.

Never do the woods look more beautiful than when tinged in gold, purple and silvery sheen; with an Indian summer haze rising over the lakes; and boys, the appetite that goes with a September morn break-fast.

Resort of the Brainerd region are in shape to take care of all this fall travel and to point out the best fishing and hunting spots, the hunting season starting September 16th.

Many sportsmen are making reservations now. "Breezy Point" lodge, conducted by Capt. W. H. Fawcett was a pioneer in this movement to extend the tourist season and last year he personally brought many hunting parties to his resort—in fact so many shots were there that it was an easy matter for "Breezy Point" lodge to get the state trap shooting tournament for 1923.

The Dispatch has set in motion a short advertising campaign for which $50 will be required and it was broached at the directors meeting Tuesday and permission was gained to make an appeal to Brainerd people to assist in financing the same.

Short, crisp ads will be run in large city papers and locally calling attention to the hunting and fishing in the Brainerd lake region, the wonderful condition of roads for touring, the resorts and cottages here, etc., and to address inquiries to the Chamber of Commerce.

Subscriptions will be received for this fund at the Dispatch office. The first to donate was W. H. Cleary, always a good booster for Brainerd, and he gave $5. Funds received will be acknowledged in the Dispatch and an account published of the disbursement of the cash received.

The coming of the school season has chopped off the general run of tourist business and steps must be taken right away to stimulate travel of sportsmen, and tourists for September and October. Let's all help.

SAILSTAD DEATH CERTIFICATE UP BEFORE JUDGE

JUDGE C. D. LUCE TO DECIDE IF SAME MAY BE ADMITTED AS EVIDENCE

INSURANCE COMPANIES REFUSE TO PAY $80,000, CLAIM SAILSTAD IS ALIVE

(By United Press.)

Superior, Wis., Sept. 13.—Whether a death certificate for the body of E. J. Sailstad is to be admitted as evidence in his wife's suit to recover $80,000 insurance, was to be decided today.

Judge C. D. Luce took the matter under advisement when attorneys for the insurance companies objected.

John A. Cadigan, chief counsel for Mrs. Leona Sailstad-Richardson, asserted the Wisconsin law provides for the admission of such evidence. The insurance companies deny that Sailstad was burned to death in a fire which destroyed his cottage on Lake Nebagamon, August 27, 1920. They will try to prove that he was seen alive with his stenographer, Dorothy Anderson, after the fire.

Mrs. Sailstad-Richardson, 29, took the witness stand Tuesday afternoon testifying that her life with Edward J. Sailstad, wealthy Eau Claire lumberman, was harmonious, and his love for their two small children was great. She told of events leading up to the fire.

Wore National Guard Uniform

Superior, Wis., Sept. 13.—Edward J. Sailstad wore a Wisconsin national guard uniform when he left his home in Eau Claire for Lake Nebagamon two years ago, his wife testified in her suit to recover his insurance today.

Charred buttons and a belt buckle found in the ruins of the Sailstad cottage at Lake Nebagamon were identified by William Carpenter, former associate of Sailstad, as being those of the national guard uniform.

Carpenter also testified regarding the financial condition of the Multitone Manufacturing company at Eau Claire, of which Sailstad was head and Carpenter was a former director.

STATE CLUBWOMEN WILL MAKE WAR ON ILLICIT RUM TRAFFIC

LIQUOR AND NARCOTIC EVIL TO BE MAJOR THEME AT BEMIDJI CONVENTION

CHILD WELFARE, FORESTATION AND RURAL SCHOOLS ALSO SLATED FOR DISCUSSION

Firm denunciation of lax law enforcement which allows continuous traffic in liquor and narcotics is expected from delegates to the annual convention of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs which opens in Bemidji, according to Mrs. T. G. Winter, president. Mrs. Winter, a determined opponent of narcotics, said Minnesota club women are ready to make war on the prevalent trade in opium and morphine.

"I expect to speak against narcotics throughout the central and eastern states this fall and get club women to organize a definite campaign against the traffic which is ruining children as well as the grown men and women of the nation," Mrs. Winter said.

The liquor question also is causing much discussion among the delegates, and resolutions probably will be presented asking more severe punishment of violators of prohibition acts, club women said today. Mayor Arthur L. Nelson, of St. Paul, will join this discussion Thursday with an address on law enforcement.

Child welfare, forestation and rural schools are also slated for discussion.

Brainerd Delegates

At a recent meeting of the executive board of the Brainerd Musical club, the following delegates were elected to the state convention of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs at Bemidji.

The delegates were Mrs. J. A. Thabes, Mrs. Ben Armstrong, Mrs. Ezra Smith and Mrs. Mal Clark.

The alternates were Mrs. W. A. Erickson, Mrs. George Warner and Mrs. A. C. Weber.

PRIMARY ELECTION RESULTS TABULATED IN EIGHT STATES

HENRY CABOT LODGE RENOMINATED TO SENATE WITH 72,000 PLURALITY

IN MICHIGAN CHARLES E. TOWNSEND, FRIEND OF NEWBERRY, WAS NOMINATED

(By United Press)

Washington, Sept. 13.—Results of primary elections held in eight states yesterday were being tabulated today.

Nation-wide attention was focused on the results of the Massachusetts election where Henry Cabot Lodge, veteran statesman, was renominated as the republican candidate for the United States senate with a plurality of at least 72,000, a three to one lead.

In Michigan Charles E. Townsend, a friend and supporter of the Newberry case, was nominated as republican candidate for the United States senate.

Another senator, Miles Poindexter, who voted to seat Newberry, was victorious in the republican senatorial primaries in Washington. He won over three opponents by a substantial majority.

A surprise was sprung in the Colorado elections when William E. Sweet, a millionaire, endorsed by labor and the Nonpartisan League, won the democratic gubernatorial nomination by an unexpected large majority.

Primaries were also held in South Carolina, Arizona, Vermont and Louisiana. These were not viewed by political observers as important from a national point of view.

CONFERENCE REPORT ON TARIFF ACT

(By United Press)

Washington, Sept. 13.—The conference report on the soldiers bonus bill was formally presented in the house today and it was decided to postpone action upon it until after the tariff is passed. The report probably will be brought up on the floor tomorrow, leaders said.

Dye Embargo Provisions

Washington, Sept. 13.—An attempt to knock out the dye embargo provisions in the tariff bill failed in the house today by the narrow margin of three votes, 150 to 147.

Had the vote gone the other way, the provisions would have been sent to conference between the house and senate and another long delay in the final tariff enactment would have resulted.

$200,000 SUIT FILED FOR ALIENATION AFFECTIONS

(By United Press)

Minneapolis, Sept. 13.—Paul R. Seidel, former husband of Mrs. Todd Lewis, wife of Todd W. Lewis, broker, filed suit in Hennepin county court for $200,000 damages alleging alienation of affections.

Mr. Lewis married the former Mrs. Seidel in Indiana in 1920 after she had secured divorce from her husband at Reno.

In his complaint Seidel charges the divorce was not legal because his wife was not a resident of Reno.

STATE CLUBWOMEN WILL MAKE WAR ON ILLICIT RUM TRAFFIC

LIQUOR AND NARCOTIC EVIL TO BE MAJOR THEME AT BEMIDJI CONVENTION

CHILD WELFARE, FORESTATION AND RURAL SCHOOLS ALSO SLATED FOR DISCUSSION

Firm denunciation of lax law enforcement which allows continuous traffic in liquor and narcotics is expected from delegates to the annual convention of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs which opens in Bemidji, according to Mrs. T. G. Winter, president. Mrs. Winter, a determined opponent of narcotics, said Minnesota club women are ready to make war on the prevalent trade in opium and morphine.

"I expect to speak against narcotics throughout the central and eastern states this fall and get club women to organize a definite campaign against the traffic which is ruining children as well as the grown men and women of the nation," Mrs. Winter said.

The liquor question also is causing much discussion among the delegates, and resolutions probably will be presented asking more severe punishment of violators of prohibition acts, club women said today. Mayor Arthur L. Nelson, of St. Paul, will join this discussion Thursday with an address on law enforcement.

Child welfare, forestation and rural schools are also slated for discussion.

Brainerd Delegates

At a recent meeting of the executive board of the Brainerd Musical club, the following delegates were elected to the state convention of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs at Bemidji.

The delegates were Mrs. J. A. Thabes, Mrs. Ben Armstrong, Mrs. Ezra Smith and Mrs. Mal Clark.

The alternates were Mrs. W. A. Erickson, Mrs. George Warner and Mrs. A. C. Weber.

PRIMARY ELECTION RESULTS TABULATED IN EIGHT STATES

HENRY CABOT LODGE RENOMINATED TO SENATE WITH 72,000 PLURALITY

IN MICHIGAN CHARLES E. TOWNSEND, FRIEND OF NEWBERRY, WAS NOMINATED

(By United Press)
Washington, Sept. 13.—Results of primary elections held in eight states yesterday were being tabulated today.

Nation-wide attention was focused on the results of the Massachusetts election where Henry Cabot Lodge, veteran statesman, was renominated as the republican candidate for the United States senate with a plurality of at least 72,000, a three to one lead.

In Michigan Charles E. Townsend, a friend and supporter of the Newberry case, was nominated as republican candidate for the United States senate.

Another senator, Miles Poindexter, who voted to seat Newberry, was victorious in the republican senatorial primaries in Washington. He won over three opponents by a substantial majority.

A surprise was sprung in the Colorado elections when William E. Sweet, a millionaire, endorsed by labor and the Nonpartisan League, won the democratic gubernatorial nomination by an unexpected large majority.

Primaries were also held in South Carolina, Arizona, Vermont and Louisiana. These were not viewed by political observers as important from a national point of view.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES

(Mrs. Clara T. Jones, Librarian)
 New books on the seven day shelf:
 Green—"The Chief Legatee". An absorbing brilliant detective story, beginning with the disappearance of a wealthy bride soon after her marriage at Grace church, New York. The opening situation leads to the tales of mystery involving the interwoven passions in the history of a family of great wealth, of brilliant detective work, and of a satisfying solution.

Hendryx—"Prairie Flowers". A wild tale of an untamed West. Those who have read "The Texan" will find him again in this book.

Lewis—"Free Air". A delightful tale of the open road and two automobiles, one imported and the other exceedingly domestic, which followed the "Red Trail" from Minneapolis to Seattle. By a chain of coincidences the driver of the tin car is always at hand to rescue the charming driver of the big car from her difficulties.

Pocock—"Curly". The best cowboy story since the Virginian. It deals with the cattle ranges of Arizona, the great desert and the Grand Canyon. A story that is clean from cover to cover and as fresh and breezy as the wild, free life it aims to picture.

Prouty—"The Fifth Wheel". A continuation of the Vars family with whom you became acquainted in "Bobbie, General Manager". Ruth, the youngest Vars who introduces herself thus: I am the kind of a girl who goes away to a fashionable boarding school when she is sixteen, has an elaborate coming out party two years later and then proves herself a success or failure by the number of invitations she received, the frequency with which her dances are cut into at balls and by the kind of marriage she makes—is the heroine. Those who enjoyed "Bobbie" will like this equally well.

Selzer—"The Ranchman". A thrilling western story full of adventure.

White—"Storm Country Polly". Another story of the squatters in the Storm Country with which you became familiar in the stories of "Tess."

White—"The Hidden Trails." Another interesting western story of the time when the West was young.

PLAN CLOTHES FOR BUSINESS WOMEN

(By United Press.)
 New York, Sept. 13.—Fashion shows have dressed up the flapper, debutante, society matron, globe trotter, dancing girl, swimming girl, golf girl and all the rest, except the business woman and now the forthcoming Exposition of Women's Activities propose to fill that gap.

One of the committee in charge of the display, to open here September 18, explained that the object is to impress on designers and manufacturers the fact that a group of women earning a million dollars a year is worthy of more consideration when dress designing is concerned.

And so, the ideal clothes, the trousseau for the office or professional girl, is to make its official debut.

BRAINERD'S TOURIST TRADE

THE business men of Brainerd have been aroused to a point where they are ready to undertake a really big task in preparing for the return of one of the community's greatest assets. This involves the expenditure of several thousands of dollars, so that the tourists, who are a vast business boon to the city, may be fittingly received, informed, assisted, housed and entertained, when they come again after the snows of winter and the rains of the springtime have washed once more the face of Minnesota. Nor are the business men forgetting the visitors who come north for the fishing and hunting during the fall months.

A good deal of credit should be given to the Chamber of Commerce and its efficient secretary for the development of this tourist business. Development of the tourist trade and of agriculture were the two features of the Chamber's work which the secretary stressed when he was elected to his position, and again at the end of the year 1921. The resort proprietors have been related to the Chamber of Commerce and to Brainerd through their organization which is a part of the Chamber of Commerce. Maps, with information for the tourists, were prepared by this organization and sent to those places where they would do the most good as an advertising medium. And the tourists came to Brainerd in 1922 in larger numbers than ever before.

Through the tourist reason arriving just at the time when the strike of the shopmen threatened the business houses of Brainerd with a very serious reduction in business, business men were compelled to notice the returns which came to them during the two best months of the tourist season, and they have been surprised to find just how great an asset these visitors are to the city. Figures submitted by the business men are being tabulated and very soon those interested in the business life of Brainerd will learn something of the extent of the summer tourist trade.

And now, while this is so obvious to the business men, and before the facts are forgotten, preparations should be started for the reception of Brainerd's visitors next season. This will take the form of advertising the city and locality; in providing an information bureau, if possible, with a full-time attendant; and, more important even than these, in putting the camping ground in such shape that it will be attractive. This may mean the putting in of gas cooking stoves, shower baths, a dance floor, and such other things as will afford comfort and enjoyment to tourists who pass through Brainerd or make Brainerd their headquarters during their vacations spent in northern Minnesota.

ALDERMAN T. B. BRUSEGAARD by taking his seat on the city council proves that he is public-spirited. Such interest in and attention to the call of civic affairs is praiseworthy. The new alderman will bring a good business training to bear upon the work of the council chamber.

THE citizens of Brainerd will remember that the county fair at Pequot is our affair.

BRITISH EXPECTED TO PAY OCTOBER 15

INSTALLMENT OF $65,000,000 IS LIKELY TO ARRIVE AHEAD OF FUNDING DELEGATION

Washington, Sept. 13.—Great Britain probably will begin payment of interest on her war debt before arrangements are made for the funding of the $5,000,000,000 of obligations, it was indicated today at the treasury.

On October 15, officials declared, the first instalment of interest, amounting to $65,000,000, falls due and, although a British financial mission has been expected to leave England in time to begin funding negotiations with the American debt commission by the latter part of this month, this country has not been notified yet of its impending departure. With September nearly half gone, officials expressed the belief that funding arrangements could not be worked out before the latter part of October.

The view was expressed at the treasury that Great Britain would meet the October 15 interest instalment, making payment through New York bankers as the Pittman silver debt is being liquidated, and that by November 15, when about $35,000,000, the remainder of the semi-annual instalment falls due, the program for England meeting its war obligations to this country will have been completed.

As the British debt now stands there is $4,135,000,000 of principal and $611,000,000 of interest due over the three years ending last April, which was deferred by mutual understanding until funding plans could be adopted so that the October 15 instalment would be the first interest actually to fall due and payable.

It is estimated $60 will take care of an Armenian child established in an orphanage for a year. The county also will contribute a "gift of wheat" to tide over refugees until the next harvest, Dr. White said.

Mrs. J. R. Mutch, 618 5th St. S., Brainerd, says: "I just ached all over. There was hardly a spot in my body that wasn't sore. When I stooped I got severe pains in my kidneys. I couldn't stand very long as I became so tired and worn out. I had a steady, dull bearing down feeling in my kidneys and felt as though I had weights tied about them. I got little rest and mornings my back was so sore and stiff it seemed it would break if I stooped. Between all these ailments I became completely run down. A friend suggested Doan's Kidney Pills and I bought some at Dunn's Drug Store. Doan's gave me wonderful relief and I am glad to recommend them."

SOUNDS KEYNOTE OF RARE OPTIMISM

Dr. R. A. Beise Makes Remarkable
Address at Last Rotary Club
Luncheon Held

CITY'S ADVANTAGES GIVEN
Wonderful Tourist Business, Center
of Dairying, Truck Farming,
Etc.

Dr. R. A. Beise sounded the proper keynote of optimism in an address before the Rotary club at their noon-day luncheon last Friday. It is so apropos to every line of work in Brainerd and to every citizen at this time, that we are reproducing it for the benefit of all Dispatch readers.

The doctor's address follows, verbatim:

Remembering our motto of "Service Above Self" I have been thinking much about what we as Rotarians should do in our present difficulties in Brainerd.

Suppose our railway shops should be taken away from the city?

Suppose our foundry should go also? What then?

And even in the event that we do not lose these valuable industries, why not do something to meet such a situation in advance?

Also, while we are having our troubles here in Brainerd, let us not forget that every community and town has its ups and downs. We, here in Brainerd, have enjoyed prosperity for more than a year and a half or two years beyond many other towns and communities. Also, we are sure of prosperous times again, if we only look ahead.

Don't knock your town because we happen to be having some trouble and tough luck just now. Extol our virtues and good qualities. The old saying, "Distance lends enchantment" is only too true. When we think of other towns, we think only of their good qualities, while at the same time we can only see the bad qualities of our own city.

We have several things in our community which have a tremendous value, but are still undeveloped. Some of the most prominent of these are the tourist business, dairying, small fruit, berry and poultry farming and I might mention many more.

We, locally, may not have such control over our railway shops, or our mines, but we can make and develop the above mentioned industries.

There is not much use in wasting our breath on impossible things. In the past 15 or 20 years our Chamber of Commerce and similar organizations have spent much time, effort and some money on trying to get factories for Brainerd. But not a single one has been forthcoming. Why? Because conditions in Brainerd are not favorable for such institutions. Let us look about and see what we have here and what we can do to develop and perfect those things which are our "Best Bet" in and about Brainerd. And by Brainerd, I mean the trade district which belongs to this city and to which we are entitled.

Let us first discuss "Tourist Trade". Look at the map of Minnesota. Consider our many beautiful lakes right around Brainerd. Look at the roads of Northern Minnesota. Then can there be any doubt in your minds why we should extol Brainerd as the gateway to the natural playgrounds of Minnesota?

First, Brainerd should adopt some slogan, such as, for example, "Brainerd, The Gateway to Minnesota's Playground." Second, this should be advertised in every way possible. Tell the tourist and prospective tourist about our wonderful lakes, their fresh water, clear and cool, sand bottomed bathing beaches, and about the numerous fish which live in these lakes. Our excellent highways should also come in for their share of boasting.

This advertising should be displayed in newspapers in localities where tourists live, such as Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and even the Dakotas. Systematic follow-up advertising before the early part of the tourist season is under full swing, is also absolutely necessary. The most extensive this advertising, the better the results that will be obtained. We cannot afford to do this publicity on any small scale.

Take Care of Tourists

We must plan a systematic way of taking care of the tourist, when they arrive in our city, or else they will never come again, and may influence others to stay away, too. A tourist information bureau, with a man in charge, who does nothing else but look after the tourist and see that none escape, get their names, addresses and where they are going, and answer in a pleasing and pleasant manner any and all questions asked. A complete directory of all lake resorts, hotels and camping grounds, with a price list of rates and accommodations to be had at these various places, what fish abound in the various lakes, best fishing and boating, and best roads, with an up-to-the-minute road map, should complete the equipment of the bureau.

The names and addresses of all tourists should be preserved for future use, and could be published from day to day in our daily papers. This is a means of advertising, as it tells the tourists who have been here, where they came from, and where they are going.

Also information should be gathered from each tourist as to the treatment they receive from our various merchants, resorts and hotels, as to prices, service, etc. If any tourist is overcharged, the one who did so should be called to task by the head of the information bureau.

I would suggest, to show the tourist that he or she is welcome and appreciated that each Brainerd business and professional man should do the following: When you see a tourist on the street, or in a store, or even in an automobile, step up to him and say: "My name is—, I live here here in Brainerd. Can I be of any assistance to you?" This goes a long way to making a friend for our city, and it costs us nothing, beyond the cultivating of a little courtesy.

Next a modern, up-to-date "Camp Site", with a pleasant caretaker in charge, or better still, the information bureau and camp site could be combined, thus eliminating expense and at the same time be more effective. The camp site should abound with shade trees, have a good lawn, modern sanitary toilets, shower baths, garbage disposal, a good water supply, tables, benches, ovens ready to use, and some form of entertainment, such as perhaps one reel of moving pictures each evening, or a band concert or any other clean form of amusement. Because, after all, the tourist is human, and some form of entertainment rests him after a hard day on the road.

A bathing beach on or near the camp site is a most excellent attraction, but if one is not available near at hand, then have caretaker direct the tourist to one elsewhere. Whether you play golf or not, remember that a good golf course will attract and hold the tourist. It is a means of amusement and entertainment, and therefore a well kept links should be encouraged and supported by all of the citizens of Brainerd.

Many of these things that I have mentioned will cost money, but it is money well spent, and will bring quick and large returns. At least one-half or perhaps more, of this money will have to be subscribed by our local business and professional men. Those most benefiting should contribute more than the others who are less benefited. The other half of the funds should be subscribed by our surrounding lake and town resorts, because Brainerd is advertising and boosting them also.

Remember one thing, tourist money is cash, and all of it is new money in the community. To deserve it, you should do everything possible for his comfort and be prepared to give him your best service. In short, treat him in the most pleasant way you know how, give him good merchandise at a reasonable price, and he will tell his friends and be back next year, probably bringing quite a following with him.

Dairy Farming
Another way we as Rotarians can render a real service to Brainerd is by devising and getting behind a systematic, constructive and practical method of assisting and showing the way to better and more dairy farming. Crow Wing, Cass and Morrison counties are not adapted to grain, corn or even potato farming, but we are a dairy country.

Our farms can raise timothy, clover and fodder in great abundance. Then by means of silos a great deal of feed can be raised on a small acreage.

I never need worry about the dairy farmer paying his bills, because he has a cash income each month. I have never heard of a dairy farmer going broke. The farmer who raises his own feed and milks 20 or more cows never has any trouble paying his mortgage.

I think that more farmers about Brainerd have gone wrong and lost all by trying to raise rye, oats or wheat, than through any other kind of farming. Mingle with our successful farmers about Brainerd and you will find that they invariably attribute their success to cows and other stock.

How are we going to assist the dairy farmer? Let the Chamber of Commerce employ a successful dairymen, one who has been successful right here in Crow Wing county to go before the various farm bureaus and tell them how he did it. For example, a man like P. M. Zakariasen, who made a success of dairy farming, should be employed a month or two each year to go out and tell others how he did it, to show farmers how to raise feed, what kind of cows to milk, and how to milk and care for them.

I remember well as a boy how the farmers in Southern Minnesota lifted themselves out of the rut and free from mortgages by having a creamery every four or five miles. To be successful dairy farmers they do not have to bottle and peddle milk. They should separate their milk, sell the cream and keep the skimmed milk for feeding hogs and calves.

The other day a farmer was deploing the fact to me that all he could get for rye was fifty cents per bushel. I told him that he ought to know better than to try to raise rye in this country. We must educate and help our farmers to break away from trying to raise grain and to get into dairying.

Some of our very best land is also the stoniest, but this stony land is all right for pasture and enough can be cleared to raise feed for the winter months.

More Creameries

We must send a representative to show our farmers how to produce milk and cream. There ought to be at least a dozen creameries in our trade district adjacent to Brainerd. If a farmer gets started in the dairy business, we should follow up and help him in using proper methods, etc.

We have an excell at market here for truck gardening, poultry, produce, berries and early potatoes. These can be produced on small acreage and at little capital and with little expense.

Everbearing strawberries, raspberries, currants, blackberries and gooseberries do very well in this country. Why not employ a man like Henry White, who has made a success of this kind of farming, to tell others how he did it and how they can make money in the same way?

It is not at all impossible or impractical to say that one million dollars worth of berries and poultry could be produced annually around Brainerd. I might go on and mention many more resources and possibilities near us which could be developed and made into a paying business, but I have merely mentioned a few which came to my mind and observation as being exceptionally practical for this locality at the present time.

BABY GOT RICKETS

Calamity Came Because Its Mother
Did Not Know How to Care for Her Child

"When my baby came I did everything I could for her and yet, with all my interest my child had the rickets" said a fond mother to the city nurse the other day.

"What should I have done", she inquired.

The nurse could not tell her that with all her good intentions she was ignorant of how to care for her baby.

The Minnesota Public Health Association is trying to remedy this condition by offering the parents of Minnesota the privilege of consulting with a children's specialist concerning their children.

Dr. D. Rupe will conduct a clinic in the rest room in the city hall, Thursday, and in the evening he will speak to the parents on the "Care of Children." The meeting will be informal and an opportunity will be given for asking questions.

A playlet entitled, "Playing Visit," will also be given by Harriet Halvorson, Imogene Bolt and Lorraine Enemark. The children will show in a very interesting manner the way in which their mothers care for babies. The meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce at 7:30 o'clock.

SOUNDS KEYNOTE OF RARE OPTIMISM

Dr. R. A. Beise Makes Remarkable
Address at Last Rotary Club
Luncheon Held

CITY'S ADVANTAGES GIVEN

Wonderful Tourist Business, Center
of Dairying, Truck Farming,
Etc.

Dr. R. A. Beise sounded the proper keynote of optimism in an address before the Rotary club at their noon-day luncheon last Friday. It is so apropos to every line of work in Brainerd and to every citizen at this time, that we are reproducing it for the benefit of all Dispatch readers.

The doctor's address follows, verbatim:

Remembering our motto of "Service Above Self" I have been thinking much about what we as Rotarians should do in our present difficulties in Brainerd.

Suppose our railway shops should be taken away from the city?

Suppose our foundry should go also? What then?

And even in the event that we do not lose these valuable industries, why not do something to meet such a situation in advance?

Also, while we are having our troubles here in Brainerd, let us not forget that every community and town has its up and downs. We, here in Brainerd, have enjoyed prosperity for more than a year and a half or two years beyond many other towns and communities. Also, we are sure of prosperous times again, if we only look ahead.

Don't knock your town because we happen to be having some trouble and tough luck just now. Extol our virtues and good qualities. The old saying, "Distance lends enchantment" is only too true. When we think of other towns, we think only of their good qualities, while at the same time we can only see the bad qualities of our own city.

We have several things in our community which have a tremendous value, but are still undeveloped. Some of the most prominent of these are the tourist business, dairying, small fruit, berry and poultry farming and I might mention many more.

We, locally, may not have such control over our railway shops, or our mines, but we can make and develop the above mentioned industries.

There is not much use in wasting our breaths on impossible things. In the past 15 or 20 years our Chamber of Commerce and similar organizations have spent much time, effort and some money on trying to get factories for Brainerd. But not a single one has been forthcoming. Why? Because conditions in Brainerd are not favorable for such institutions. Let us look about and see what we have here and what we can do to develop and perfect those things which are our "Best Bet" in and about Brainerd. And by Brainerd, I mean the trade district which belongs to this city and to which we are entitled.

Let us first discuss "Tourist Trade". Look at the map of Minnesota. Consider our many beautiful lakes right around Brainerd. Look at the roads of Northern Minnesota. Then can there be any doubt in your minds why we should extol Brainerd as the gateway to the natural playgrounds of Minnesota?

First, Brainerd should adopt some slogan, such as, for example, "Brainerd, The Gateway to Minnesota's Playground." Second, this should be advertised in every way possible. Tell the tourist and prospective tourist about our wonderful lakes, their fresh water, clear and cool, sand bottomed bathing beaches, and about the numerous fish which live in these lakes. Our excellent highways should also come in for their share of boosting.

This advertising should be displayed in newspapers in localities where tourists live, such as Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and even the Dakotas. Systematic follow-up advertising before the early part of the tourist season is under full swing, is also absolutely necessary. The most extensive this advertising, the better the results that will be obtained. We cannot afford to do this publicity on any small scale.

Take Care of Tourists

We must plan a systematic way of taking care of the tourist, when they arrive in our city, or else they will never come again, and may influence others to stay away, too. A tourist information bureau, with a man in charge, who does nothing else but look after the tourist and see that none escape, get their names, addresses and where they are going, and answer in a pleasing and pleasant manner any and all questions asked. A complete directory of all lake resorts, hotels and camping grounds, with a price list of rates and accommodations to be had at these various places, what fish abound in the various lakes, best fishing and boating, and best roads, with an up-to-the-minute road map, should complete the equipment of the bureau.

The names and addresses of all tourists should be preserved for future use, and could be published from day to day in our daily papers. This is a means of advertising, as it tells the tourists who have been here, where they came from, and where they are going.

Also information should be gathered from each tourist as to the treatment they receive from our various merchants, resorts and hotels, as to prices, service, etc. If any tourist is overcharged, the one who did so should be called to task by the head of the information bureau.

I would suggest, to show the tourist that he or she is welcome and appreciated that each Brainerd business and professional man should do the following: When you see a tourist on the street, or in a store, or even in an automobile, step up to him and say: "My name is _____ I live here here in Brainerd. Can I be of any assistance to you?" This goes a long way to making a friend for our city, and it costs us nothing, beyond the cultivating of a little courtesy.

Next a modern, up-to-date "Camp Site", with a pleasant caretaker in charge, or better still, the information bureau and camp site could be combined, thus eliminating expense and at the same time be more effective. The camp site should abound with shade trees, have a good lawn, modern sanitary toilet, shower baths, garbage disposal, a good water supply, tables, benches, ovens ready to use, and some form of entertainment, such as perhaps one reel of moving pictures each evening, or a band concert or any other clean form of amusement. Because, after all, the tourist is human, and some form of entertainment rests him after a hard day on the road.

A bathing beach on or near the camp site is a most excellent attraction, but if one is not available near at hand, then have caretaker direct the tourist to one elsewhere. Whether you play golf or not, remember that a good golf course will attract and hold the tourist. It is a means of amusement and entertainment, and therefore a well kept links should be encouraged and supported by all of the citizens of Brainerd.

Many of these things that I have mentioned will cost money, but it is money well spent, and will bring quick and large returns. At least one-half or perhaps more, of this money will have to be subscribed by our local business and professional men. Those most benefiting should contribute more than the others who are less benefited. The other half of the funds should be subscribed by our surrounding lake and town resorts, because Brainerd is advertising and boosting them also.

Remember one thing, tourist money is cash, and all of it is new money in the community. To deserve it, you should do everything possible for his comfort and be prepared to give him your best service. In short, treat him in the most pleasant way you know how, give him good merchandise at a reasonable price, and he will tell his friends and be back next year, probably bringing quite a following with him.

Dairy Farming

Another way we as Rotarians can render a real service to Brainerd is by devising and getting behind a systematic, constructive and practical method of assisting and showing the way to better and more dairy farming. Crow Wing, Cass and Morrison counties are not adapted to grain, corn or even potato farming, but we are a dairy country.

FANNING WITH ARRELL

PROFESSIONAL GOLF—THE CASH END

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Sept. 13.—Because he wants to make all the money he can while his sun is shining, Walter Hagen, British open champion, is getting in bad with the golf fans.

Hagen, on account of "previous engagements," did not defend his title as western open champion in the recent tournament at Detroit and he was severely criticized. The championship was held at his own club and the officials of the club considered it an act of ingratitude that he took a lot of color out of the tournament by not competing.

Many prominent golf fans express the opinion that professional golfers are becoming too mercenary and are giving the game a taint of commercialism close to that of the prize ring.

It is easy for one without the opportunity to criticize others for making money. The reign of a golf king has always been short and champions have to make the best of their limited opportunities.

Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion, and Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, are in for more trouble. Wilson and Kilbane are recognized now in New York only as former champions and it is understood that the National Boxing Association of America, which recently allied itself with the French Federation, is going after the two actionless champions and may vacate their titles if they refuse to fight.

While the New York commission may be criticized for acting in the capacity of a matchmaker, the governors of boxing in New York are doing much to break up the "trust arrangement" which has kept many of the best American boxers from working in New York.

Billy Miske, St. Paul heavyweight, and one of the best in the division, has complained that he couldn't get a fight in New York, because he didn't belong to the inside click.

The commission, however, opened the way for him by a decree that Bill Brennan would have to fight him before permission would be granted for another Dempsey-Brennan fight.

Before Lee Flynn stepped out as "advisory matchmaker" at Madison Square Garden, many managers and fighters protested that it was impossible to get a fight in New York that might work to the disadvantage of any of the boxers in the big Flynn stable.

Hal Chase, baseball's greatest first baseman, is now working ten hours a day stacking lumber in a yard in San Jose, Cal., for a salary of $4 a day, according to reports from the coast. Chase might now be working for five times that much an hour, if he had acted differently.

Phil Douglas isn't working at all.

"IRISH MUST LAY DOWN THEIR ARMS"

London, Sept. 13.—Irish rebels must surrender and lay down their arms before hostilities can be ended, General Mulcahy, commander of the Free State army, informed Eamonn De Valera, according to dispatches from Dublin today.

Mulcahy and De Valera met to discuss plans of peace, according to the report.

WHAT DID DADDY DO TODAY

There is a baseball player named Rogers Hornsby. There is also a team known as the St. Louis Cardinals. They recently had hopes of winning a pennant. New York settled that. However, that is another story. Rogers has a baby, 22 months old, and the story is that the baby is already studying the dope that certain sport writers write about baseball players. Averages and such. So daddy Hornsby is trying to eclipse Babe Ruth in so far as hitting is concerned.

PROFESSIONAL GOLF—THE CASH END

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Sept. 13.—Because he wants to make all the money he can while his sun is shining, Walter Hagen, British open champion, is getting in bad with the golf fans.

Hagen, on account of "previous engagements," did not defend his title as western open champion in the recent tournament at Detroit and he was severely criticized. The championship was held at his own club and the officials of the club considered it an act of ingratitude that he took a lot of color out of the tournament by not competing.

Many prominent golf fans express the opinion that professional golfers are becoming too mercenary and are giving the game a taint of commercialism close to that of the prize ring.

It is easy for one without the opportunity to criticize others for making money. The reign of a golf king has always been short and champions have to make the best of their limited opportunities.

Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion, and Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, are in for more trouble. Wilson and Kilbane are recognized now in New York only as former champions and it is understood that the National Boxing Association of America, which recently allied itself with the French Federation, is going after the two actionless champions and may vacate their titles if they refuse to fight.

While the New York commission may be criticized for acting in the capacity of a matchmaker, the governors of boxing in New York are doing much to break up the "trust arrangement" which has kept many of the best American boxers from working in New York.

Billy Miske, St. Paul heavyweight, and one of the best in the division, has complained that he couldn't get a fight in New York, because he didn't belong to the inside club.

The commission, however, opened the way for him by a decree that Bill Brennan would have to fight him before permission would be granted for another Dempsey-Brennan fight.

Before Lee Flynn stepped out as "advisory matchmaker" at Madison Square Garden, many managers and fighters protested that it was impossible to get a fight in New York that might work to the disadvantage of any of the boxers in the big Flynn stable.

Hal Chase, baseball's greatest first baseman, is now working ten hours a day stacking lumber in a yard in San Jose, Cal., for a salary of $4 a day, according to reports from the coast. Chase might now be working for five times that much an hour, if he had acted differently.

Phil Douglas isn't working at all.

AMUSEMENTS

Pretty Cold Up in Northern Michigan

They were talking about how cold it could be in northern Michigan. The discussion arose when John Gilbert star of "The Yellow Stain," the Fox picture which opens at the Lyceum theatre tonight and Thursday, told some friends that certain scenes of his newest picture were laid up there. A number of tales were unfolded. Gilbert was a good listener. At last he tried one of his own.

Said he "I've seen it so cold in northern Michigan that the whistles on the railroad engines could not toot. One day when I was on a trip the weather became milder, and I heard a lot of shrill whistles coming from the engine. Finally we came to a station, and the train stopped. Still the whistle shrieked.

"With some other passengers, I went up to see what was the matter. The conductor was there, too. He had put a question to the engineer, when the latter, an old fellow on the road, said: 'There ain't nothin' wrong. This happens every spring thaw. The sounds gets frizz up in the whistle during the winter, and as soon as the weather warms a mite, all the tootin' begins to come out. It's all right, you can go back, and feel safe.'"

Right there the party broke up. Gilbert had won by an icicle.

ENGINE TEST OF 250 CONTINUOUS HOURS FORECASTS POSSIBILITY OF NON-STOP FLIGHT AROUND THE WORLD

The possibility of a round the world non-stop flight is seen in this photo—showing the test of a new E-2 Wright airplane motor, which ran continuously for 250 hours on the block—by far the most remarkable motor performance ever made. At the rate of two miles a minute, a plane driven by this motor would travel 30,000 miles, or more than 4,000 miles more than the circumference of the earth. Photo shows Lieut. William D. Thomas of the Naval Air Station at Anacostia, D. C., explaining the functioning of the motor to chief mechanics at the station.

Here's Russian Asking To Be Deported; Funds Vanish in Rail Strike

St. Paul, Sept. 13.—There is one non-deportable Russian in St. Paul who is trying to get into the deportable class. He is Pietrof Sokomolovich, former railroad employe, whose funds have vanished in the railroad strike. He has been seeking diligently for several days to find some official to deport him to his native land. He has applied to agents of the department of justice, secret service men, postal inspectors, the district attorney, the postmaster, and Federal Judge Wilbur F. Booth. Every appeal has failed, but he still is sighing vainly for forcible expulsion from St. Paul.

SMALLEST ENGLISH DICTIONARY FOUND

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 13.—Weighing less than one-sixth of an ounce, the smallest English dictionary in the world has been located here, it is claimed. Joseph Brown, a war veteran, who went overseas with the 42nd Highlanders, is the possessor. He carried the dictionary, a family heirloom, right through the campaign. The pages are a little over half an inch long; a third of an inch wide, and the book is half an inch thick. The paper is very fine and the print can only be read through a glass. There are 1,100 pages.
